

“Everything you want to hear in the music of empowerment.”

- Rolling Stone India

Biography

Q is a jazz/soul/RnB singer-songwriter whose husky R&B with raw, impassioned lyrics on female sexuality vocals and theatrical performances have seen her and independence, the EP generated mentions in perform at an array of venues across Sri Lanka and Rolling Stone India and radio play on the BBC Asian the United Kingdom. Network. After honing her skills at the National Youth Jazz Homegrown India declared, “Her ability to deliver Orchestra in the UK and singing at the Barbican soulful and sultry vocals that are at once evocative

Theatre, Q returned home to Sri Lanka and formed and easy flowing, make her an artist worth tuning her own musical outfit, Q x The Band. Taking its cues into again and again.” from jazz greats like Ella Fitzgerald, and RnB singers A multi-disciplinary artist, Q is also an accomplished like Al Green, the band has performed at bars and actress whose credits have included the Oscar- restaurants across Sri Lanka. Past residencies have nominated film, Water (2005), Midnight’s Children included The Hilton (Colombo), Shangri-La

(Colombo) and currently, they perform weekly at the (2011) and most recently Netflix’s Funny Boy (2019). prestigious Galle Face Hotel. Private events have included shows for the ambassadors to USA, Italy, She is also a model who has been included in fashion France, EU, and the Head of UNHCR and other clients editorials for international magazines like L’Officiel have included Colombo Fashion Week. Italia and Cosmopolitan Sri Lanka as well as campaigns for Buddhi Batiks and Selyn Fairtrade As a solo musician, Q ventured into uncharted

Handloom. territory in the Sri Lanka music industry with the release of her debut EP, ‘Hysteria’.
Combining alt-

Her Work Click on the image to play the YouTube video

Orange Coloured Sky (Jazz Cover) - Q x The Band Son of A Preacherman (Dusty Springfield cover) - Q

Q x The Band Demo Reel Unstoppable (Lianne La Havas cover) - Q