MAGMA

Caribbean soul, global grooves and irresistible live energy

Magma is a dynamic Caribbean fusion band whose sound brings together reggae, soca, calypso, dancehall, R&B, soul, pop and contemporary global influences. Built for audiences who want to dance, celebrate and connect, the band transforms every performance into a vibrant musical journey filled with rhythm, personality and genuine showmanship.

At the heart of Magma are vocalist and songwriter Chanique Rogers-Bailey and producer, musician and bandleader Adrian Bailey. Chanique brings a warm, soulful voice and an expressive stage presence shaped by jazz, gospel, R&B and Caribbean music. Her professional credits include appearances on BET's 106 & Park and ABC's The Chew, as well as performances alongside respected artists including Alfa Anderson of Chic, composer Aziza Miller and violinist Daisy Jopling.

Adrian Bailey adds extensive experience as a musician, producer and musical director. He is credited as the producer of Kevin Lyttle's internationally successful hit Turn Me On, bringing a strong understanding of Caribbean rhythm, crossover production and audience appeal to Magma's live presentation.

THE MAGMA EXPERIENCE

Magma's repertoire moves naturally from classic Caribbean favourites to modern dance-floor songs, soulful ballads and international pop selections. The result is a colourful, flexible show that can shift from elegant and soulful to festive and explosive while maintaining a polished professional image. Whether performing for a festival, private celebration, wedding, cultural event or premium entertainment program, Magma delivers feel-good music designed to keep guests engaged from the opening number to the final encore.

Authentic Caribbean spirit. International musical versatility. One unforgettable live show.
