

L'MARCO SMITH BIOGRAPHY

L'Marco Smith is a multi-talented artist. His musical resume is quite extensive, having grown up around the entertainment industry. As a child, Smith had numerous performance opportunities which have proven to be beneficial in his development as an artist. Raised in the church, he was that choir boy who was always asked to sing a solo. In grade school, he found favor with his instructors and somehow managed to command a spotlight. As a young adult, L'Marco hasn't slowed down.

A recent alumni from the Bob Cole Conservatory of Music at CSU, Long Beach, where he majored in Vocal Performance, Smith has only perfected his craft; broadening his repertoire of Classical to Jazz, Gospel to Pop/R&B.

Gospel greats such as Kim Burrell, Dr. Shirley Caesar, Dawkins&Dawkins are just a few artists that L'Marco has been privileged to grace the stage with, not to mention sharing the stage with R&B singers such as Kari Taylor, Chante Moore, and others. L'Marco has many artists to whom he credits as influencing his music such as Brandy, Yolanda Adams, Mario, Tonex, and MJ. Creating his own style has been an interesting journey, but one that will set him apart from other artists in the industry.

Also, a photographer, L'Marco is not limited in his networks or business savvy. Running his own company, LS Inc., Smith has acquired a diverse clientele of models and other acclaimed photographers. His creative eye and love of the lens is allowing him to break into many aspects of the entertainment industry, including fashion and print work.

Recently, L'Marco signed with Freestyle Records, an independent label headed by Marvin Miller, CEO out of Corona, CA. As they begin work on his debut album, you can rest assure there is a great musical experience bound to take place. The album will feature some production collaborations with producers such as Spotlight, Glenn Clancy, and European producer, Reinholds. The sky is the limit for this upcoming sensation!
